

COMPASS BOX WHISKY COMPANY

ASYLA

ASYLA is our blend of grain and malt whisky. It's an elegant and approachable whisky that epitomizes the Compass Box house style of richness, sweetness and softness. It's a whisky made for casual drinking, before dinner, outdoors, in a cocktail, or however you like.

In creating ASYLA, I wanted a whisky of the quality and flavour characteristics of the very best small production whisky bottlings (i.e. from great casks, no chill filtering, etc.), but in a style that's more conducive to drinking casually, glass after glass. ASYLA, given its malty-fruitiness, its vanilla-sweetness and its softness on the palate, is this style. It's got the complexity and quality that will appeal to serious whisky fans, but also the approachability to intrigue new whisky drinkers, too.

John Glaser, Whiskymaker and Company Founder.

Flavour Descriptors:	Delicate flavours of vanilla cream, cereals and sweet oakiness.
Recommendations:	On its own with a splash of water, with ice or mixed. An ideal aperitif whisky.
Distillery Sourcing:	Single malts from the villages of Elgin, Longmorn and Ballindalloch. Single grain from Fife. All whiskies aged between 10 and 12 years.
Wood:	100% American oak first-fill barrels and rejuvenated hogsheads.
Bottling Details:	Bottled at 40% Abv. Natural Colour. Not Chill Filtered. A natural, slight haze will form in this whisky when water is added or when it gets cold. This is a good thing!

"Best in Class"

International Wine & Spirits Competition, London, 2005

"Best Scotch Whisky"

Food & Wine Magazine, New York

"Best Blended Whisky"

Scottish Field Whisky Merchant's Challenge, 2004

